A WORD FROM OUR PRESIDENT

ALDRIN K. ENIS
President

Dear Members and Friends of the One Hundred,

I offer you a warm welcome to our 15th Annual Roscoe C. Brown, Jr. Golf Classic. This year marks a milestone occasion for One Hundred Black Men, Inc. (OHBM) in having a three-day golf outing, a first for us. Your attendance is sure to be a memorable time for everyone as we golf, fellowship, toast our esteemed honorees, and celebrate the academic achievements of our young scholars.

The members of OHBM carry the hopes and dreams of many on our capable broad shoulders. You've all stepped up in a major way throughout the past twenty-four + months by your selfless acts in distributing over 15,000 meals and 70,000 PPE, creating virtual programming for our members and youth population, scholarship distribution, and so much more. But, on today, I tip my hat to the Golf Committee who has met every week over the course of twenty weeks to ensure our most successful golf outing.

The leadership of Co-chairs Derrick Barnes, Christopher Bennett, and Frederick Davis, Jr. is unmatched. Please see the page within this journal that is dedicated to and acknowledges the entire Committee. To them, I am eternally grateful. We've stepped up the event through partnership with the PGA of America. They took the time to nurture the relationship to benefit both organizations. We embraced their mantra of, "Make Golf Your Thing," to introduce our youth participants to the sport of golf. You will see these young people throughout our golf classic, but in particular on August 8th during our inaugural Junior One Hundred Golf Challenge. Thank you, Chris Bennett, for the introduction and Erik Cliette for nurturing the partnership.

Thank you to this year's honoree organization: PGA of America.

Your relationship with us has allowed us to exceed our goals in issuing scholarships to deserving scholars in New York City. We also highlight our very own, Mr. Bill Howell! We are all so very proud of your career accomplishments and countless hours in uplifting the Black community. I remain very optimistic when I look at the young scholars who participate in our youth programs and those who are in or on their way to college. May you shine and become powerful individuals who will make a difference in the lives of others and in doing so, remember your heritage and embrace your future!

So, whether you golfed and/or attended our cocktail reception, we hope that you had an amazing time. Because of your financial contribution, OHBM will be able to continuously enhance its programs, such as the Junior One Hundred, and give scholarships to those in need. Let's continue to change the world... for the better!

With gratitude,

Aldrin K. Enis
President

WELCOME FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

COURTNEY A. BENNETT
Executive Director

"The ends you serve that are selfish will take you no further than yourself but the ends you serve that are for all, in common, will take you into eternity."

– Marcus Garvey

On behalf of the board of directors and members of One Hundred Black Men of New York, I would like to thank all who attended the 15th Annual Dr. Roscoe C. Brown Golf Classic and are reading this wonderful digital journal! The words of Marcus Mosiah Garvey are manifest through the work of our organization and no member has embodied and projected the OHBM mission and purpose better than past OHBM president Dr. Roscoe C. Brown, Jr. His storied career stands as an example of how education opens doors to opportunity; hard work and perseverance makes a success of that opportunity; and giving back to the community transforms the opportunity from success to significance!

By every measure, the 2022 Classic has been historic. With more than 220 golfers (including 20+ youth) over a three-day event, we have been able to surpass our fundraising efforts from any of our previous outings! This happened through the tireless work of Golf Committee co-chairs, Chris Bennett, Derrick Barnes, and Fred Davis; the excitement of our golf subcommittee chairs and members who really STEPPED UP; and of course, the leadership of OHBM President, Aldrin K. Enis. My gratitude for their efforts is only matched by my appreciation for our Sponsors and Partners—the awesome PGA team (Seth, Jeff, Charles, Alyssa, Rachel, Kennie, Kendall, Dylan, and Victoria; National Grid (program partner); Enterprise Holdings (John Mackey, Carole Lakin); (John O'Hare); LECET (Jeff Rae); Local 79 (Dean Angelakos); United Airlines (Kristin Lewis and Monica Slater-Stokes); Macy's (Kelli Lewis); Merck (Matthew Brown); Cross River Bank (Cinnamon Chambers); and our own Bill Howell, a brother, mentor, and friend whose ongoing support continues to lift the One Hundred to new heights.

As you "thumb" through this journal—designed and produced by Brian Jones, Dina Gardner, Ken Williams, Tyrone McKinney, Solomon Greene and the rest of our Journal committee—you will see the outpouring of support from longtime partners and new sponsors and friends, who thought it not robbery to feed the hungry, help young people get a better education, rebuild small businesses, restore communities, and propel our ongoing efforts to mentor boys on the road from success to significance! They have our endless thanks, and we look forward to developing mutually beneficial long-term relationships in service to the community. Please share the work of the One Hundred with your friends and colleagues and let them know that you helped somebody along the way.

Finally, I want to thank the OHBM staff, Shirley, Nikki, Valone, George, and, especially, Dina!

MENTORING FOR THE FUTURE

Mentorship is an evidence-based practice that has been shown to improve behavior, and increase rates of promotion, graduation, college acceptance, and college completion. In the 1990s, several books and articles on the poor that highlighted the social, academic, employment and economic outlook for Black youth, especially boys, shocked the nation and greatly disturbed our members. One such article revealed that seventy-five percent of New York State inmates came from seven specific neighborhoods in New York City. This article, and an inspired return from the 1995 Million Man March, drove OHBM to begin a major undertaking to uplift the young people of New York City and improve long-term outcomes for boys and color. Our two main initiatives to accomplish this goal were the creation of the Eagle Academy and establishment of the Junior One Hundred Mentoring Program (JOH).

Junior One Hundred - OHBM is committed to creating a generation of powerful leaders. Our Junior One Hundred Mentoring Program begins in middle school and positively impacts student outcomes all the way through college graduation.

The Junior One Hundred is a Youth leadership and career exposure program open to students ages 12 to 24. The program focuses on Career Exploration, Character Development, Personal Growth, and Mentorship. The 2022 JOH career tracks include Business, Medicine, Law, and STEM (Science Technology Engineering and Math.)

Program Objectives:

- 1)expose young people to professional business careers.
- 2)provide a base knowledge of opportunities in careers for the future.
- 3)promote entrepreneurship to whet their appetites to someday start and/or own businesses and create generational wealth.
- 4)provide a familiarity with college and corporate environments.
- 5)increase levels of basic financial literacy and an understanding of wealth equity.

Other outcomes may include creating a start-up company and securing job or internship offers. The Junior One Hundred is also a bridge to our college scholarship and internship program.

Program Components:

MENTORING FOR THE FUTURE

- Junior One Hundred Legacy – 300 high school junior and senior students, in six cohorts, meet weekly for 17 weeks on various campuses. Each JOH session consists of lessons from our core curriculum - highlighted by Fire-side Chats given by OHBM members and experts from the career areas listed above. To enhance the experience of JOH scholars, trips, job shadowing, career days, and other activities are included.
- Impact Sessions – Partnering with the NYC Young Men's Initiative (YMI), college sites, corporate sponsors and others, OHBM conducts forums and conferences for JOH scholars and other program participants from middle school through graduate school. The conferences feature members of OHBM, celebrities, youth leaders and NYC officials who address the young men on topics chosen by our 30 JOH Ambassadors and participant surveys. Up to 500 students will participate in at least one conference in 2022.
- Mentoring – Employing a youth initiated mentoring approach, OHBM matches members of OHBM and other caring adults from corporate sponsors and communities with JOH students and scholars from middle school to senior year in high school. Group mentoring sessions are 45 minutes long and feature a mentor to mentee ratio up to 1:10.

Mentoring sessions are developmentally appropriate and topics include grooming, etiquette, time management, financial literacy, conflict resolution and mediation, career planning, college retention, preparation for manhood, civic engagement, and other subjects.

- College Mentoring – OHBM supports 20 college students via virtual meetings focused on college persistence and completion. Monthly sessions, conducted by OHBM members and corporate partners, focus on elements of the college experience including course selection; study routines; friends/networking; faculty relationships; campus life: dating, fraternities/sororities; finding and securing internships; and career development. There is also room for scholars to share emerging issues and have one-on-one sessions.

Eagle Academy - New York City's first all-boys public school in over thirty years, was founded by OHBM in 2004 and continues to defy an entrenched American mindset by insisting that young black and brown men are not one of America's problems but, instead, one of its greatest assets.

Bill Howell

Husband, father, and grandparent; business owner, political attaché, mentor, and community advocate, Bill Howell is a consummate professional, always using his talents, experience, and influence to support the greater good.

Educated at Johnson C. Smith College, Bill's journey includes working with political luminaries such as former U.S. Senator James Buckley, former New York City Comptroller Bill Thompson, and current Congressman Hakeem Jefferies. His business success is informed by various stints working in not-for-profit and for-profit industries including: Helen Keller for the Blind; March of Dimes; Boys and Girls Clubs; Harlem YMCA; Jaycees; and the One Hundred Black Men of New York. Notably, he served as Vice Chairman of the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce; an Executive Director of the Association of Minority Enterprises of New York; a member of the NYS Chapter of the National Association of Minority Contractors; a Community Capital Bank trustee; a Commissioner of the NYC Water Board and Finance Authority; and a current Mount Sinai Health System trustee.

According to Bill, his sales experience with New York Life, coupled with his marketing experience with Wallace and Wallace Fuel Oil Company along with all of his other professional experiences prepared him to Launch Howell Petroleum (dba Howell Industries) more than 35 years ago. Today, Howell Industries is in the construction industry, providing construction management services and mentoring to small MWBE contractors at the NYC School Construction Authority (SCA), and the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA). Partnering with TDX Construction Corporation, Howell Industries is responsible for increasing Services to Disabled Veteran Owned Businesses (SDVOB) and their participation in the MTA Small Business Development Program.

However, beyond his many accomplishments, awards and service to business and community; Bill's greatest achievements are being a God-fearing man; marrying the love of his life, Vanessa, and being a loving father and grandfather to their children: Joy (Jae), Aimee (Jarod), Christina, and Cory; their grandchildren: Isaiah, Jessica, Jasmine, Adam Amaziah, Austin, Dominic, Lucia, and Jade.

Jackie attracted attention whenever he did play golf; shooting in the high 70s and low 80s, according to High Ridge Country Club member Carl Rosen. "Jackie could crunch the ball off the tee and was a very good putter, with a good short game," Rosen said.

OHBM pays tribute to Jackie Robinson for his greatness as an athlete, civil rights leader, and American.

$200 for One Hundred

The 2022 Step Up Challenge: $200 for the One Hundred is our opportunity to say “Thank You” to particular members that paved the way for each other to further impact the OHBM mission.

For the 2021 Golf Classic, the membership rose to the challenge of 100 members contributing $100 for the One Hundred. Each member that stepped up got a business-card-sized ad in the journal in addition to their other sponsorship selections. It’s no surprise – You understood the assignment. – We achieved 100% participation!

This year, we are so excited about the momentum of your giving, that we stepped up the challenge to $200 for the One Hundred. Yes! And to put some spin on the effort, members included another member’s name to honor that special member, on their behalf that appears here in a business-card-sized journal ad. It’s a “wall of recognition” for the way we have mentored each other through exemplary leadership as an example to the constituents we serve. Yes... Leaders Lead.

$200 for One Hundred

The 2022 Step Up Challenge: $200 for the One Hundred is our opportunity to say “Thank You” to particular members that paved the way for each other to further impact the OHBM mission.

For the 2021 Golf Classic, the membership rose to the challenge of 100 members contributing $100 for the One Hundred. Each member that stepped up got a business-card-sized ad in the journal in addition to their other sponsorship selections. It's no surprise – You understood the assignment. – We achieved 100% participation!

This year, we are so excited about the momentum of your giving, that we stepped up the challenge to $200 for the One Hundred. Yes! And to put some spin on the effort, members included another member's name to honor that special member, on their behalf that appears here in a business-card-sized journal ad. It's a “wall of recognition” for the way we have mentored each other through exemplary leadership as an example to the constituents we serve. Yes... Leaders Lead.
